Frank Turner twice shot and killed Robert Murrell, a Mississippi compty farmer, Sunday a week ago. Objectionable attentions paid by Turner to Murrell's daughter led to the tragedy. Murrell's wife was present at the murder. Turner and the girl fled. If the testimony at the Coroner's inquest is true, capital punishment should be inflicted in this case.

On the farm of John A. Snider below Delta a sou of Sam Gross started to cremate a pig which had died. The wind carried fire into an adjacent large wheat field, where it spread rapidly in the dry stubble, and it took hard work on the part of a number. of men with teams and plows to become masters of the situation. The wheat on eight acres perhaps 200 bushels—was burned

At Farmington, last week, prompt work by the volunteer fire department of State Hospital No. 4 saved the kitchen dining room and storehouse of the institution, valued at $40,000 from destruction by fire that eaught from a flue in the kitchenand when discovered the flames were leaping from the roof of the dining room, twenty-eight feet above the ground. The damage will be less than $500
